LIVING JESUS' RESURRECTION LIFE NOW

Romans 6:1-5 & Selected Scriptures

By Rod MacIlvaine

Introduction: These days, we demand instant delivery. We don't want to wait to get what we want. Now, let's think about this when it comes to our eternal life. Most of us are incredibly grateful for the gift of eternal life that comes when we die, because our human hearts yearn for eternity, and we hope to be reunited with loved ones in a place Jesus called Paradise. But let's face it: that's way off in the future. In this Amazon-quick world, we might wonder, "Is there any benefit to my eternal life right now?" What are those benefits? How do I tap into those benefits this afternoon or this evening? In Romans 6:1-5, Paul tells us how we can tap into the benefits of our future resurrection life right now. So this morning, I want to show you what that means from Romans, and then I want to show you what those resurrection-life benefits are, right now, from five places in the Bible.
