

WHAT ARE EMPLOYERS REALLY LOOKING FOR?

Proverbs 25:2-15

By Rod MacIlvaine

Introduction: The nature of work is rapidly changing today. As AI moves into more of our workspaces, the need for traditional soft skills of human wisdom becomes even more vital. Since office bots are emotionless, mixing AI with humans is fraught with problems, and human skills are still desperately needed. In Proverbs 25, the Men of Hezekiah pen what amounts to an ancient HR manual for those who work in the king's court. The soft skills exhibited in this manual are timeless, but they're especially relevant in a world where robots are given more and more tasks. To study this, we will look at soft skill in the marketplace with respect to the leader, ourselves & others.

1. Welcome to HR – Proverbs 25 as an ancient human resources manual.
Proverbs 25:2-5

2. Wisdom with respect to the leader
Proverbs 25:15

3. Wisdom with respect to yourself

Proverbs 25:6-10

4. Wisdom with respect to others

Proverbs 25:11-14

5. Idea

6. Takeaways